99.9% Pure Type I Collagen

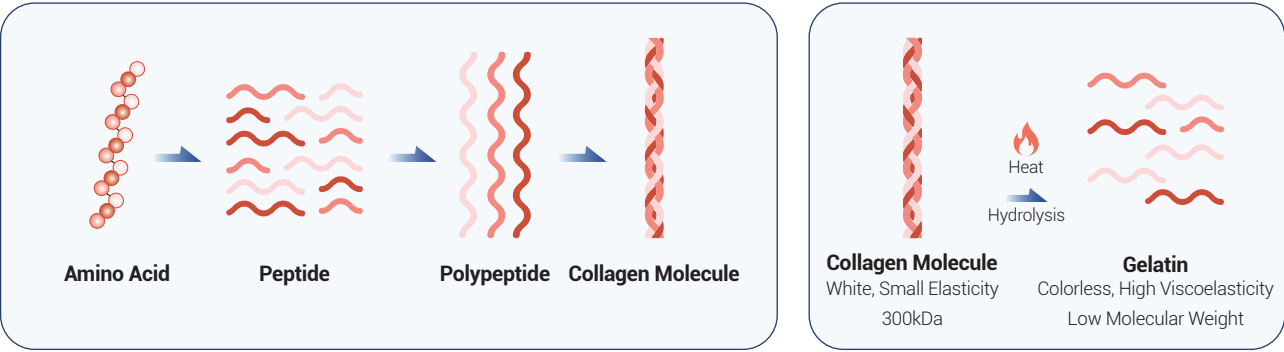

80-85% of the Dermis is Collagen

The relationship between skin aging and collagen is crucial. Collagen acts as a structural support for the skin, playing a key role in maintaining its elasticity and strength. It helps preserve skin firmness, prevent wrinkles and sagging, and retain moisture for smooth, hydrated skin. Protecting collagen as we age is essential for preventing skin aging and maintaining healthy skin.

99.9% Pure Collagen

Collagen molecules are proteins with amino acids forming peptide chains that create a triple helix structure, resulting in a white, fibrous appearance. Gelatin, derived from collagen, is transparent due to the breakdown of collagen into smaller molecules.
